May 4, 2024

Elliott Hall of Music at Purdue University West Lafayette, IN

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Graduates,

It is my pleasure to offer heartfelt congratulations to each of you on your graduation we are celebrating today.

Even before I began my role as president of Purdue University in January 2023, I had long appreciated the importance and significance of Purdue Global. For most of you, as an adult learner, you have responsibilities that traditional college students do not. You accepted the challenge to pursue or resume your education in true Boilermaker fashion – with determination and persistence. I join your professors, deans, academic leadership, and Chancellor Dooley in saying how proud we are of you.

The overall Purdue student body numbers over 100,000, and to our university's unique combination of excellence and values generations of Boilermakers have been ever true. You are now part of our loyal alumni family.

We wish you the best of luck and look forward to watching your continued success.

Hail Our Purdue!

Allyssa Spates
Executive Juris Doctor, Class of 2021

Allyssa Spates earned an Executive Juris Doctor degree from Purdue Global Law School in 2021 and is the Vice President of Emergency Management for one of the largest health care systems in New England. With over 10 years of dedicated professional service, Allyssa is a motivated leader who consistently works toward increasing engagement in the field of emergency management and bringing the field into the 21st century by adapting to new technologies and new challenges. She has provided perspective and leadership in various industries for emergency management including a private college, local/state government, national-level response, international response, and most recently in public health and health care. Allyssa has been a poised leader in many different types of emergency responses such as large mass-casualty incidents, infectious disease outbreaks/pandemics, cyberattacks, and hospital evacuations.

Allyssa has distinguished herself by the professional development and support she has provided to numerous people over the last 10 years through mentoring and education. She has served as the role model to many both within and outside of her field of work inspiring others to take opportunities and assisting them in finding their dream career path. After having served as a volunteer firefighter/EMT for 12 years, her diverse background in emergency response brings her perspective of why “taking the road less traveled” is essential in the success of each person’s professional journey. Allyssa continues to offer support to others outside her field of work by volunteering for the Army Reserve Soldier and Family Readiness Group which provides support for military families when a family member is deployed.

Allyssa is married to her husband of 4 years, Devon, and dearly loves her dogs Harry, Koda, and Nita, as well as their two cats Mr. Crowley and Oreo, and all of their farm chickens/ducks.

HISTORY AND TRADITIONS

The Mace

Purdue Global commencements begin with the entrance of the University mace. The mace first appeared at the May 2022 commencement in Indiana. It was constructed by Michael Lorenz, Purdue Global Vice President of Strategy & Academic Operations and Registrar.

The mace consists of 18 segments, representing Purdue Global's founding in 2018. It is made entirely from locally sourced woods, symbolizing the University's Indiana heritage. One section is composed of layers of different woods, evoking the diversity of students, faculty, and staff that is a hallmark of the institution and its mission. Three pieces of the current mace are refurbished from the previous mace, a reminder of Purdue Global's legacy, which traces its roots to the American Institute of Commerce, a postsecondary school that opened in 1937 to provide training for underserved job seekers in a nation still reeling from the Great Depression.

The tradition of the mace originates from medieval times, when it was carried by bishops into battle as a protective device; later, it was carried by bodyguards of kings and others of high rank. Legislative bodies then adopted the ceremonial mace as part of the pomp and circumstance associated with the beginning of meetings. Today, many universities carry a mace to symbolize the importance of commencement and as acknowledgement of the academic process.

Legend of the Boilemaker

An 18-foot, 5,400-pound bronze statue that celebrates the lore and legend of the Purdue Boilemakers now stands next to Ross-Ade Stadium with an inscription that reads: The year was 1891. A college known for its proud heritage of educating the sons and daughters of the working class began to dominate opponents in football. After a 44-0 thrashing of Wabash College, a headline writer provided inspiration for a most unique nickname. 'Wabash Snowed Completely Under by the Burly Boile Makers from Purdue' chronicled a victory by the 'Herculean wearers of the black and old gold.' Never intended as a compliment, the insult appealed to the students of the day. The indomitable spirit of the boilemaker is embodied in the tireless laborer you see before you.

Boilemaker Special

The locomotive design of Purdue's official mascot celebrates the University's renowned engineering programs. The first Boilemaker Special was presented in September 1940 and is often used to announce campus events.

Purdue Pete

Pete's story began in 1940 when University BookStore hired California artist Art Evans to draw a logo. The grinning, muscular icon reflected a boilemaker tradesman with a mallet for molding steel and hat to keep grease out of his hair.

In 1944, the logo was introduced as Boilemaker Pete, in Purdue's Debris yearbook, and on September 28, 1956, Purdue Pete made his first appearance at a pep rally before Purdue played Missouri, when student Larry Brumbaugh (ME'57) donned foam rubber padding, football shoulder pads, long black pants, a sweater with a P, and a papier-mâché head.

BOILER UP!

“Boiler Up!” is used as “Go Purdue” or as “Cheer Up!” Students also use it to greet each other and to cheer in football games.

This phrase was partly a creation of our former football coach Joe Tiller, who led Purdue’s football team through one of the most successful periods of its history from 1997 through 2008. Before coaching at Purdue, he had coached at the University of Wyoming, also known as the Cowboys. During his time at the University of Wyoming, Joe Tiller used the Phrase “Cowboy Up” to cheer up his players. When he started working at Purdue, he wanted a similar phrase to use with the Boilermakers. Therefore, Joe Tiller and his wife, Arnett Tiller, came up with the phrase “Boiler Up.”

However, coincidentally, a very similar phrase has been used decades ago in steam-powered locomotives. When the coal box was hot enough and the engine was ready to go, the fireman would yell “Boiler’s Up!” to let the locomotive engineer and the conductor know the boiler was ready.

“HAIL PURDUE!”

“Hail Purdue” is Purdue’s official fight song. The song was composed in 1912 by Edward Wotawa (music) and James Morrison (lyrics).

The Hail Purdue Wall

The Hail Purdue Wall was installed in the fall of 2014 to commemorate the song’s 100th anniversary. Constructed using glass and brick, the wall is consistent with the rest of the red brick campus architecture. It was decided that the words would be etched onto glass to allow one to see the fight song with the “scenes of Old Purdue” behind it. The wall was placed near Elliott Hall of Music.

Big Bass Drum

Known as the “world’s largest drum,” it stands 10 feet tall on its field carriage and is handled by a crew of four band members with two beaters. The drum draws attention wherever it goes from fans who want their picture taken with the instrument. It still has its original 1921 frame, which is eight feet in diameter and nearly four feet between its two heads.

Old Oaken Bucket

In 1925, Dr. Clarence Jones, Indiana University alum, and Russel Gray, Purdue University alum, were given the task of finding a suitable trophy to represent the rivalry between the two schools. They traveled across the state in search of “the most typical Hoosier form of trophy.” Jones and Gray came across Bruner Farm, where a bucket hung from a well. They brought the bucket back with them and restored it. George Ade, representing Purdue, and Harry Kurrie, representing Indiana, presented the Old Oaken Bucket trophy to President Bryan, of Indiana University, and Dr. Elliott, of Purdue University, at Ross-Ade Stadium, in the 1925 game. Ironically, the 1925 game ended in a 0-0 tie. The bronze block “IP” was linked to the trophy to signify the tie. As of 2023, Purdue leads the overall series 77–42–6.
